

Partner Success Story

The District

A mid-sized K–12 public school district in Virginia, serving approximately 14,500 students across 22 schools.

Their Challenge

In 2021, the lingering effects of COVID-19 impacted the district creating a severe shortage of in-person speech-language pathologists (SLPs). The district struggled to keep up with therapy demands, putting pressure on their internal staff and making it harder to meet every student's needs.

Our Teletherapy Staffing Solution

The district partnered with VocoVision to launch an innovative teletherapy program that removed location barriers and connected students with qualified SLPs. The program's success led to expanding to additional services and technology enhancements:

- Expanded Services
 - Added virtual Sign Language Interpreters (SLIs) to overcome the logistical challenges of in-person interpreting.
 - Extended support beyond the classroom—students now use iPads with mobile hotspots for therapy during class, transitions, recess, and even field trips.
 - Introduced virtual School Psychologists and interactive touch-screen stations across schools.
- Technology & Security Enhancements
 - Transitioned all devices to JAMF for secure management—now considered a gold standard across districts.
 - Introduced a two-in-one microphone to improve sound quality.
 - Rolled out the VocoHub platform, providing centralized Zoom access without recurring meeting links.

Today: VocoVision remains the district's trusted teletherapy partner, delivering scalable, innovative solutions that evolve with their needs.
